STAR Wall (Skydiver Tribute and Recognition Wall) Is Online

Almost 200 people have chosen to recognize friends, teammates, relatives, clubs, drop zones and teams on the STAR (Skydiver Tribute and Recognition) Wall. The STAR Wall will be a central element of the Honor Garden on the north side of the International Skydiving Museum & Hall of Fame.

People often refer to their inscriptions as a “brick.” We are moving away from this terminology since the wall will be constructed of a more durable material.

So we are ready to have each recognition on the wall ready to inscribe; we have put all the information we have for the wall on our website. You will find the listing of inscriptions by going to www.SkydivingMuseum.org. Once there, click on Join the Team, then STAR Wall.

If you donated to the Wall:

- Go to our website to verify your inscription is accurate.
- If your inscription is missing, please provide it to our Museum Administrator, Nancy Kemble Wilhelm, at nkemble@skydivingmuseum.org.
- If there is a note next to your name about the format for inscriptions, that means the inscription that was provided at the time of your donation did not conform to the format, or you have not yet provided an inscription. If so, please contact Nancy Kemble with modifications/an inscription.

Have fun going through the listings and inscriptions. Many of the names are likely to bring back fond memories.
